Tapping into Mobile Learning

Grades 3-5

Parents' Thoughts About Mobile Devices for Early Childhood and K–12 Learning

Mobile devices are making their way into the classroom. By high school, half of all students (51 percent) carry a smartphone to school with them every day. (51 percent) carry a smartphone to school with them every day. By high school, half of all students (51 percent) carry a smartphone to school with them every day.

Schools should require mobile devices in the classroom. Percentage of parents who say their child's school ...somewhat agree or completely agree.

Percentage of parents who say their child's school ...somewhat agree or completely agree.

Percentage of parents of younger ...somewhat agree or completely agree.

Percentage of parents who are required to ask their child to use family-owned mobile devices in the classroom.

Parents report that mobile devices in the classroom improve learning, make learning more enjoyable, foster creativity, teach math, teach reading, teach science, teach foreign languages, promote curiosity, teach responsibility, teach self-sufficiency, teach foreign languages, perform better in school, teach social skills.

Parents who are required to ask their child to use family-owned mobile devices in the classroom.

Parents report that mobile devices in the classroom improve learning, make learning more enjoyable, foster creativity, teach math, teach reading, teach science, teach foreign languages, promote curiosity, teach responsibility, teach self-sufficiency, teach foreign languages, perform better in school, teach social skills.

Parents report that mobile devices in the classroom improve learning, make learning more enjoyable, foster creativity, teach math, teach reading, teach science, teach foreign languages, promote curiosity, teach responsibility, teach self-sufficiency, teach foreign languages, perform better in school, teach social skills.

Parents report that mobile devices in the classroom improve learning, make learning more enjoyable, foster creativity, teach math, teach reading, teach science, teach foreign languages, promote curiosity, teach responsibility, teach self-sufficiency, teach foreign languages, perform better in school, teach social skills.